Updated Warranty Coverage for Stinger Equipment

Electronic Components

At Stinger Equipment, we are committed to delivering reliable, high-quality products and continually improving our support for distributors, dealers, and end users.

Historically, electronic components on Stinger Equipment have been covered under a 30-day warranty. Although this was the official policy, we have frequently extended coverage on a case-by-case basis as a gesture of goodwill to our customers.

Beginning in 2026, we are pleased to announce a significant enhancement to this policy:

Electronic components will now be covered under warranty for 180 days

This expanded coverage reflects our ongoing dedication to product durability and customer satisfaction.

Our updated website is scheduled for release soon and will include the revised Dealer Warranty Program, which outlines the new 180-day electronic component coverage along with other program details.
